Building a Growth Mindset Across the Continuum

(0.6 CEUs)

Description:

This interactive workshop will focus on strategies to develop and teach a growth mindset using current brain research that supports the fact that our brains can grow and change. Participants will be given tools, strategies and activities that can be implemented immediately to increase attention, memory function and student engagement. This workshop will provide participants with classroom management strategies that upgrade attitudes in a positive climate while build affirming relationships with the most challenging students across the continuum in your schools. In addition, strong connections will be made to help participants understand the positive effect that a growth mindset can have on encouraging students who are disengaged or affected by trauma and chronic stress.
